

Changes to Serving It Right

Effective September 15, 2015

What is Serving It Right?

Serving It Right is a self-study course offered by go2hr for the hospitality industry. The course covers the legal obligations of anyone who sells and serves liquor in B.C., and offers tips to help workers meet these obligations.

Under current provincial liquor regulations, some licences and staff are exempt from the training. The recent Liquor Policy Review recommended that many of the current exemptions be lifted. The table below highlights the changes, scheduled to take effect Sept. 15, 2015.

What is changing?

- Sales and service staff in restaurants, wine stores, rural agency stores and BC Liquor Stores who do not already have Serving It Right must obtain it by Sept. 15, 2015.
- Licensees, managers and sales and serving staff who have completed Serving It Right will now have to recertify every five years.
- Anyone completing Serving It Right for the first time will now be required to re-certify every five years.
- Serving It Right requirements for special occasion licence events will be based on the number of people attending an event, rather than the type of special occasion licence (SOL) a person or organization is applying for (i.e., family, private or public).
- A new abridged training program called Special Event Server Training is being developed for SOL events with less than 500 attendees.

What is the new Special Event Server training?

Special Event Server training will be a specially designed training program that focuses on the responsibilities of liquor service at Special Occasion Licence events. It will be available by summer, 2015.

What training is required for Special Occasion Licence events?

- All SOL licensees and managers must take Serving It Right if the event is for 500 or more people; if the event is for less than 500 people, they take the new Special Event Server training.
- All servers, regardless of the event size, must take the new Special Event Server training or have a valid Serving It Right certificate

How do you get a Serving It Right Certificate?

Certification is obtained by taking the Serving It Right course online or on paper and successfully completing the exam. More information on the Serving It Right course and exam is available through the go2hr website.
